Washington, D.C. & Seattle, WA

PROGRAM NOTES

The ASIA PACIFIC LEGAL INSTITUTE (APLI) is proud to have the Georgetown University Law Center, the Asian law Program of the University of Washington School of Law and the Asia Pacific Intellectual Property Association of Taiwan join us in co-sponsoring the 2000 Summer Intellectual Property Training Program. To provide the highest quality of instructing, maximum exposure to current issues, and yet with the least cost to our participants, our curricula is designed to allow participants to engage in direct discussions with leading experts in the field, to access the state-of-the-art technology, and to observe the actual policy shaping process from the perspective of business, government and the academia.

The APLI 2000 Summer Intellectual Property Training Program begins on Wednesday, July 5, 2000 in Washington, D.C. Participants must report to Classroom 109, McDonough Hall of the Georgetown University Law Center at 9:00 AM (600 New Jersey Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20001; telephone: (202) 662-9000). The program for the Washington, D.C. segment includes various subjects on the current intellectual property protection and technology transfer policy in the United States, and visits to key agencies and major law firms to make first-hand, on-site observations of the issues discussed. This entails meetings with senior officials and leaders in the American intellectual property community. Having successfully concluded this part of the course, participants are invited to the University of Washington School of Law in Seattle, WA where another series of subject-oriented lectures and discussions will follow in the last two weeks of the program. In addition, participants will conduct on-site visits to several key industry facilities to have further orientation of intellectual property management in the United States. While in Seattle, all participants are invited to participate in the annual High Technology Protection Summit held on July 21 and 22, 2000 at the University of Washington School of Law, a conference that get together worldwide leading experts in the field.

To accommodate our participants, the APLI has arranged with the Georgetown University Law Center to make available on-campus housing facilities, the Gewirz Student Center (120 F Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20001). A participant certainly has the option, however, to live off-campus or to make other on-campus residential arrangements. Before he or she chooses to do so, he or she must inform APLI of his or her decision as such at least seven days prior to the beginning day of the class. While in Seattle, participants will be staying at the University Inn. In addition, a complimentary breakfast of sorts will be served every morning the classroom, from Monday to Friday, in Washington, D.C. and every morning at the lobby of University Inn in Seattle, WA.

In addition to the traditional or core program, the APLI now provides two Optional Programs for its participants, one takes place prior to the core program, which entails a two-day visit and seminars in the Boston area (and specifically the Massachusetts Institute of Technology) and one entails a round of visits to various firms and a two-day seminar in the San Francisco Bay Area.

The tuition covers all courses and visits in Washington, D.C. and Seattle, Washington. Note that the tuition does not include registration fee, lodging, food, text materials, books, airfare, local transportation and other miscellaneous expenses. Nor does it cover the Optional Programs. No enrollment is permitted unless and until all tuition and fees are paid in full. Note that tuition payment is non-refundable and non-transferable after June 14, 2000. Partial refund may be granted to participants (or their sponsoring organizations) who have duly notified APLI on or before that date of their cancellation or withdrawal, in whole or in part, from the program. The exact amount of refund shall be determined by APLI on a case-by-case basis.

Provided herein is the program/curricula. For any inquiry or more information, please contact the APLI at (410) 290-8740 or by Fax at (410) 290-9976. The mailing address of APLI is 7046 Cradlerock Farm Court, Columbia, MD 21045; our e-mail address is apli@apli.org. Your thoughts and comments are always appreciated.
